Business Jet Center join the Paragon Aviation Group

Houston, TX- October 1, 2011: Paragon Aviation Group is pleased to announce the addition of Business Jet Center to the network of elite operators. Both of the Business Jet Center locations, OAK and DAL, are new to the network.

Business Jet Center is a family-owned business located at Dallas Love Field and operated by Mr. Robert J. Wright and Michael G. Wright. In September 1997 Business Jet Center was born and the Wright family vision to provide a top-notch full service FBO to the Dallas general aviation community came to fruition. The Business Jet Center family was expanded in October 2003 with the development of an FBO at Oakland International Airport in the renovated original historic passenger terminal of this California Bay Area airport.

Director of Business Jet Center, Bill Moltenbrey, commented on his company's new partnership stating, "We have long recognized the need for an Independent FBO association. Paragons experience in the industry along with their philosophy on service ultimately made our affiliation with them an easy decision." He continued, "It also allows our Dallas and Oakland FBOs to be a part of the same program regardless of fuel company affiliation."

When asked about his new affiliation with other elite independent operators, Moltenbrey said "We are so excited to align ourselves with other independent operators who understand the value of being an independent FBO and are committed to raising the standards on what our customers can and should expect."

Paragon views the addition of Business Jet Centers as a great milestone for the company. President Mike Delk said, "Knowing that Business Jet Center was a strong Exxon Avitat partner, and chose Paragon as their affiliation moving forward, affirms our commitment to the industry."

Going into NBAA next week Delk stated, "Business Jet Center is exactly the type of member that our group desires; we plan to meet with others in Las Vegas with the same caliber of service and facilities as them. They are truly the upper echelon of our industry."

Paragon represents a group of first-class independent FBOs and small chains that have the same operational principles; customer-focused service, quality, safety, reliability and value. By delivering tangible benefits to its members through leverage in buying power on FBO services and customer information through state of the art flight tracking software provided by Argus. Each FBO joining PAG goes through a comprehensive audit of facility and services offered to ensure the quality of the member base. A base of core standards has been developed for each FBO to adhere to and maintain to remain in the network.

Paragon Aviation Group is owned and operated by Delk's Valley Oil, a family business comprised of Mike Delk, Megan Barnes and Molly LeBlanc. With their combined industry experience of over 60 years they have introduced an exciting new industry platform for premier aviation service providers.
